Advancement Summit: Women in Politics

Equal Voice, EVE Award recipient and former Ontario Minister of Citizenship, Culture and Recreation
December 2, 2011

Join Women of Influence and Equal Voice on December 2nd as we explore how women make their mark in a political climate that is complex, chaotic and often unforgiving. Why is it so important that more women seek this responsibility? How do female representatives make a meaningful impact in a profession still largely dominated by men? Is work life balance actually possible and is the relentless public scrutiny worth it? Moderator Isabel Bassett, former Ontario Minister and EV National Award Recipient, will tackle these questions head on. Hear what female politicians from across the spectrum have to say about a wide range of hot topics and what drives these trailblazers to continually make strides for women in Canada and around the world.

The expert panel will include:

- ◆ The Honourable Shelia Copps, President, Sheila Copps & Associates, Former Deputy Prime Minister
- ◆ The Honourable Barbara McDougall, Advisor, Aird & Berlis, Former Member of Parliament
- ◆ Jennifer Lawless, Associate Professor, Department of Government Director, Women & Politics Institute, School of Public Affairs, American University

Guests of Honour that will be attending the event:
